TOWN ELECTRICIAN DISMISSED

The adjourned meeting of the town council was held on Monday night, with Mayor Farmer and Councillors Ferguson, Gillis, Sartoris, Morgan, Patterson and Hays present.

The minutes of previous regular meeting were adopted as read and a number of accounts were passed for payment.

Adaptation waited upon the council to protest against the location of a new horse stable at the rear of their residences near Dearborn Street West. This stable had already been erected by Mrs. Susannah Evans for the Mounted Police, who have leased her property in that section.

Council considered that, as the building had been completed for the purpose it would be up to the residents to register complaints if same and surroundings were not kept in a sanitary condition, and that the premises would from time to time be subjected to inspection by the medical health officer.

Secretary announced that the resignation of Councillor Ferguson as chairman of the waterworks committee, submitted on October 6th, was accepted by the mayor on October 6th.

Communication from Mr. K. G. Craig re the broken window in Irono's store was ordered acknowledged and filed, as was also a letter in connection with a similar matter from the Blairmore Trading Co.

A letter was received from the Macleod hospital, re accounts in connection with Mrs. E. Russell, invalid patient there. The letter contained a copy of a document signed by former mayor and secretary, A. McLeod and E. Wright, respectively, pledging responsibility of the town for the maintenance of Mrs. Russell. This action had never been brought before nor received the consideration of members of the town council. The Town of Blairmore has for about two years been held responsible in this connection and has paid a considerable sum for hospital attendance and board. All but $127.50 of this amount, however, has been reimbursed to the town by the two sons of Mrs. Russell, who now reside near Sirdar, B.C. Secretary was instructed to communicate with the sons, requesting settlement of the balance, and the matter of the town's liability will be referred to the department at Edmonton for advice.

The Western Canada Wholesale Co. asked the town to pay their bill for legal advice in connection with the straightening out of a tax problem affecting their Fleming property here. A motion was passed to the effect that the council repudiated liability in the matter.

The offer of Rt. Rev. Bishop Kidd and the Catholic Parish for the purchase of two lots immediately west of and adjoining the St. Anne's church property was accepted by the council. The lots will be used for recreation purposes.

Solicitor Bannan informed the council that the conviction of the man Nelson, charged under the town's license by-law with being a transient trader within the meaning of the by-law and trading within the town limits without a license as required, had been quashed by the appeal court, without costs to the town. This appeal was heard on October 18th at Macleod, the town being represented by Mr. S. G. Bannan.

Reports were received from Fire Chief Morency and Chief of Police Spence, and ordered filed.

The following motion was passed: Gillis—Patterson—That, whereas William Lornie presented to the meeting of the Council held the 20th day of September, 1926, his resignation, effective from October the 31st, 1926.

And whereas, upon the request of the said William Lornie to the council

L.O.O.F. ANNIVERSARY

At the close of the regular meeting of Blairmore Lodge No. 65, L.O.O.F., on Tuesday night of this week, a most enjoyable social evening was spent to commemorate the sixteenth anniversary of the institution of the lodge. The musical programme was of the highest order and enjoyed by all. The committee in charge wish to thank all those who took part, for their splendid co-operation in making the affair the success that it proved to be.

The programme included songs from Miss Lena Fraser, Messrs. H. Pinkney, J. R. Gresham, R. Dicken and Ed. Womersley; piano solos from Miss Alice Hornquist and Tommy McKay and orchestra selections from Upton's Orchestra, all of which was greatly appreciated.

The chair was ably occupied by Bro. W. H. Chappell, while short addresses were received from several representatives from the visiting lodges of Bellevue and Coleman.

At the close of the musical programme, a sumptuous supper was put on by the members of Crowview Rebekah Lodge and this part of the evening's entertainment was responded to with great enthusiasm by all. About 150 people sat down to the tables. The sixteenth birthday cake was cut by an honored member of the order in the person of Bro. John Hadfield, of Coleman, one of the few members left who assisted in the institution of Blairmore Lodge.

After the supper, dancing was indulged in for a couple of hours, after which, everybody went home feeling that the sixteenth anniversary of Blairmore Lodge had been celebrated in a most enjoyable manner.

At its sitting of October the 4th, 1926, his said request was allowed to be withdrawn and he was granted six months leave of absence.

And whereas, the said William Lornie has left his employment with the Town prior to said October 31st, 1926.

Be it therefore resolved, that the said William Lornie be dismissed from the employ of the Town.

Mr. Lornie's dismissal takes effect at once. He is succeeded by Mr. Tony Vejprava.

The next regular meeting of the council takes place on Monday night next.

A National Literature

Greatness in a nation is to be found in something more than its might as a military or naval power, or its vast possessions. Its greatness lies in its industrial development, its world-wide trade and commerce. True greatness is to be found in something more than even the health and physical fitness of its people, their educational attainments, their progressive ideas. Real greatness in a nation is to be found in things of a less tangible nature as revealed in the sentiment, the spirit, the inherent character of the people. In these are to be found the sign of a nation.

The nobility of character of a people, the soul of a nation is reflected in its art, its literature, whether of prose, its attitude towards religious observances, its sympathetic eagerness of the unfortunate and afflicted.

The greatness of Britain is seen just as truly in the works of Shakespeare, Milton, Bunyan, Tennyson, Scott and Burns as it is in the deeds of Nelson, Drake, Wellington, Wolfe or Clive. Indeed, it has been such men as those in the first mentioned group who have been the inspiration of the poets in the second group. The poets and writers of Britain have interpreted the spirit of the races, have caught and aroused the finest and noblest instincts of their fellow men, have lifted high a banner under which Britons the world over have been inspired to serve with unselfish, undying devotion.

After the passage of centuries the greatness and glory of ancient Greece and Rome rests not upon the mighty achievements of their warriors but upon the beauty and power of their great authors, poets and artists. Their works still live and are an inspiration to the world, while the achievements of the warriors have long since crumbled into dust.

A young and still largely undeveloped country like Canada is naturally deeply concerned with material things. It is a country in the making, with a comparatively small population scattered over an immense territory. As a nation it has only recently passed the half century mark. Its history is yet to be made. The years that have passed have been creditable years, and in the fatal years of the Great War, Canada tested and proved the character of its people. Great material advancement has been recorded; progress is the national watchword.

But what of the Canada of the future? Are the Canadian people to be content with a form of national greatness based solely on increasing population, greater accumulations of wealth, an enrichment in things material, or do Canadians covet for their country a greatness which will include those other and less tangible, but infinitely less perishable, assets of a fine and lofty literature to guide and inspire generations yet unborn?

We believe Canadians do aspire to these higher things, and this belief is supported by a growing recognition on the part of press and people of the importance of encouraging the development of a strong and worthwhile Canadian literature. "One concrete evidence of this is found in the increasing interest taken in Canadian books, Canadian poetry, Canadian art and music. Canadian authors or Canadian book week has just been observed, and observed most eagerly than in any previous year. In a greatly material sense the surface idea may be to promote the sale of books by Canadian authors and publishers, but the main, the underlying idea is to thus provide encouragement to Canada's native born writers and poets, and to make possible a Canadian literature which will be a source of national pride, inspiration and strength.

Canada proved its greatness during the Great War not alone in the trenches, or at Vimy Ridge, or in the making of munitions, the raising of foodstuffs, the financing of huge undertakings, or in the self-sacrifice of its people. Of all the nations in the world, Canada at the same time prepared the finest pictorial record of the war by leading artists. This Dominion's War Memorial Pictures are without a peer in the world. It is a collection of unsurpassed historical value and beauty, not a glorification of war, but a pictorial history to acquaint future generations of Canadians with the heroism, the steadfastness, the self-sacrifice of our people, and to inspire them to cultivate and maintain those qualities and virtues which make for true national strength and greatness.

And it was a Canadian who produced the finest piece of poetry to have inspired the Canadian War. "Colonel McCracken's 'In Flanders Fields'" is a never dying message to the people of Canada to hold on high the torch of freedom and keep the faith for which their sons heroically fought and died.

Every Canadian home should have in it some of the best Canadian poets, and the number should be added to yearly and to the extent that the finances of the home will permit. It is mere waste of time to deplore the prevalence of United States or other foreign books and magazines in Canada. There is one sure way to overcome this difficulty, and to promote the healthy growth of Canadian publications and encourage Canadian authors, and that is to commence the establishment of a small home library of Canadian books and to add to it as rapidly as possible. By so doing every Canadian can help in a very direct way in building up a strong and worthwhile Canadian literature which will prove to be a very real source of national strength.

War On Rheumatism

International Society Has Been Organized to Combat It

Rheumatism costs the world as much as tuberculosis in loss of wages and labor, according to a report to the American Medical Association. The malady is much more important economically than is generally believed and an international society to combat it has been organized through the action of an association of physicians in the Netherlands.

This society is about to issue a world-wide rheumatism questionnaire to collect information about the causes, climate, and social conditions and other factors that enter into the prevalence of the affection. These data will be used as a basis of scientific studies to determine better methods for its treatment and cure.

Plan Unusual Flight

Round the World by Way of Poles is Latest Idea

A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Copenhagen says a round-the-world flight by way of the North and South Poles is being discussed among members of the Amundsen-Ellsworth Polar expedition, which flew across the North Pole last May in the dirigible Norge.

This statement is credited to Dr. Plan Malmgren, meteorologist and oceanographer on the Polar flight and a close friend of Amundsen.

Dr. Malmgren believes the world flight feasible with an airplane having eight motors, but says the actual plans have not been formulated.

Imitation Was Too Perfect

Louis Anderson, Kansas City, can whistle just like the siren on a police automobile, but he isn't bragging about it. Recently when he was practicing in a crowded street, a driver ahead of him got out of the way so quickly that he drove over a curbstone and smashed a store window. It cost Anderson $10.

Safety Of Railway Travel

Only Small Percentage of Accidents Occur on Canadian Roads

The safety of railway travel in Canada is again shown in a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, covering the year 1935. For every billion miles traveled by passengers in that year only 1.7 were killed and 17.5 injured. In other words there were five passengers killed in train accidents in 1935 and 374 injured out of a total of 41,485,984 passengers carried a distance of 3,910,700,047 miles, or one passenger killed to every 84 killed carried, and one injured out of every 110,000 carried.

Linking Empire By Radio

Project Characterized as Dream Will Soon be Accomplished

The long talked of linking up of the British Empire, a project that was only recently characterized as a dream, is expected to be accomplished within the next few months with the inauguration of four imperial beam wireless stations in Great Britain. Two of these, at Rodmole and Bridgewater, will communicate with Canada and South Africa, respectively, and two others at Grimsby and Skegness, will span the seas to Australia and India.

THE TRIALS OF MIDDLE-AGE

Much of the Suffering Women Endure Can Be Avoided

Every woman approaches middle-age with considerable anxiety, because she knows this is the time of finding some trivial ailments may be the first signs of trials and sufferings to come. She fears the headaches, backaches, heartache and other distressing weaknesses that burden the life of so many women at this period.

Much of the anxiety and suffering that assail women approaching middle-age can be avoided. This has been proved by thousands of happy, vibrant women who have relied at this time on the health-help given by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To the middle-aged woman the one thing necessary to carry her through her years of trial is rich, red blood. Because of their direct action on the blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the one remedy found by women for women's needs. Among the thousands who have found benefit from this remedy is Mrs. Allan Wager, Echo Lake, Ont. who says: "I was at a critical period in the lives of all women and was sick and miserable, I became so much run-down that I was unable to do my housework. The least exertion would cause my heart to knock so violently that I would have to sit down. I had headaches and backaches, and was in a depressed condition. I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills recommended and decided to give them a trial. It was fortunate that I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the first time for the use of this medicine I was restored to good health and strength and feel like a new woman. I never reflect on an opportunity to recommend this remedy to those who are run-down for I am very grateful for what the pills did for me."

For all ailments due to weak water blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found a specific. You can get the pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at five a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Canadian Export Wheat

For the past seven crops wheat Canada "export wheat" has totaled 375,000,000 bushels—of which 150 million bushels moved via Canadian ports, and 225 million bushels via U.S. routes.

There are some 350,000 superannuated officers and officials on the Japanese pension roll which amounts to about $60,000,000 annually.

She Laughed! Thought It Was a Joke

Brooklyn. Mrs. K. Kummer writes, "I have taken notice that I can write and not habitually form. I thought I thought Rheumatism. I laughed when someone suggested that I try Carter's Little Liver Pills for I never thought that my trouble was connected with my liver. I found out that I am a new person. I am thankful to you for the help your pills have done for me and my friends."

Makes Fun Of Food Faddists

Doctor Says More Nonsense Talked About Food Than Anything Else Speaking in London at the annual dinner of the Institute of Certified Grocers, Sir James Crichton-Browne said that in the present day food questions have risen in the ascendant as never before.

The fierce light that used to beat on the throne was now concentrated on the grocer's shop. It was scarcely possible to open a newspaper without finding some scare about food poisoning, food preservatives, food adulteration, with dietetic recommendations which were sometimes simply foolish and sometimes mischievous.

Research work of the right kind was needed, but the deliverances of some so-called research workers must be evaluated without asking questions. Research conclusions were often partial and provisional, and were sometimes published hurriedly and prematurely.

After all, the most trustworthy laboratory for food research was the human stomach, and its verdicts were not to be lightly set aside. Vitamines were always to the fore, but it was necessary to discriminate between vitamin science and vitamin fads.

There was no subject on which more nonsense was talked than that of food. Only the other day an eminent surgeon was inveigled against canned foods. But canned foods won the war. And they are here to stay.

As long as they had good, mixed, varied diet they need not bother their heads too much about vitamins.

Freest People In World

Statement Made by Premier Tachereau About French Canadians

"Never, so far as there is a French Canada, will there be annexation of Canada by the United States," declared Premier Tachereau to the British House of Commons. "I do not believe there is any real movement in that direction. There are three million French-Canadians in Canada, and they are a very happy lot. They have much love for British institutions, where we have found liberty in everything we cherish. I believe we are the most free people in the world."

Origin Of Old Saying

"No room to swing a cat," is an old naval phrase which does not refer to a feline. It was first applied to the confined space between decks on the old men-of-war, which was so cramped that there was no room for the boson's mate to swing a cat-o'-nine-tails when administering floggings.

British Jurist Writes Poetry

Lord Darling, the eminent British jurist who recently completed a tour of Canada, has a poem in the London Sunday Times entitled "At the Great Divide," dealing with the spot in the Rocky Mountains where a wooden arch marks the height of land.

The new patent in Ward B is very good-looking, said the nurse.

Yes, agreed the matron, but don't wash her face. He's had that done by four nurses this morning.

Many mothers can testify to the virtue of Mother Gray's Worm Expeller, because they know from experience how useful it is.

Sergeant (to rookie)—"If you have the gun on your right hand and the vest on your left hand what have you back of you?"

Rookie—"My klapdeck."

Great Service To Mankind

If Scientists Can Discover Cause and Prevention of Common Cold

The ambition to "make colds as rare as smallpox" is said to be the moving force behind the proposal of the Chemical Foundation to organize and support extensive and intensive scientific research into the cause and prevention of common colds.

That this ambition rarely takes an enormous toll in discomfort and loss of energy is well known. That it is one of the most difficult to guard against is also accepted. But many persons have long felt that medical aid and men alike have been too much inclined to regard colds as inevitable. The former have not devoted enough attention to prevention or cure and the latter have not realized the dangers and responsibilities of infection.

If, therefore, some organization of a scientific character can undertake an exhaustive study of colds in all their forms, and can find for them the preventives which, unless the lessons of checking minor dangers of colds are to be ignored, must exist; it will be doing a great service to mankind. Even when colds are not followed by graver illnesses like influenza or pneumonia, they inevitably lower the individual's resistance to all types of sickness.—New York Times.

Big Yields Per Acre

Reports of High Yields for Wheat in Alberta

Reports of high yields of wheat and other grains are being sent from different parts of Alberta to the provincial department of agriculture, from which the two following are taken: A. G. Walker, a farmer, who lives at Irma, Alberta, had 2 1/2 acres of well-manured summer-fallow land sown with Prelude wheat. Threshing it with the machine tally recorded 312 bushels, or nearly 94 bushels per acre.

As an instance of what good cultivation and well-irrigated land will do, a twenty-acre plot on the farm of J. E. Tennant can be pointed out which yielded 45 bushels to the acre. This will, it is reported, be duplicated many times over on good land in the irrigated districts of Southern Alberta as returns come in this fall.

Did Not Spend Much

Boy Enjoyed Sights of New York For Four Dollars

From Jerusalem, Nathan Levy arrived in San Francisco, Cal., having made the journey alone and enjoyed the sights of New York at a total expense, in excess of his fare, of four dollars. Nathan's father is in San Francisco. Some time ago he sent Nathan money to buy railroad tickets and a $5 bill, and told him to come to San Francisco. Nathan started, carried a while in New York, and on his arrival proudly displayed a single dollar, the remainder of his spending money.

Light And Sight

Glare More Harmful to Vision Than Insufficient Light

Investigation of the relation of light to the ability to see well was recently undertaken by the British government, resulting in the discovery that glare seriously interferes with good vision. The survey indicated that glare is even more harmful to the vision than insufficient illumination. Tests made in factories proved that increased illumination, with a minimum of glare, greatly increased the output of work.

Punishment Fits the Crime

For every day they do not drink a gallon of water while they are in jail a day will be added to the sentence of four men sentenced by Mayor P. J. Groh of Dover, Ohio, for intoxication. The mayor said he was prescribing the "water cure to break their liquor habit." The quartet got a minimum of ten days in jail.

A Double Escape

DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER'S STORY

Another Toronto home provides evidence of how a simple cut, scratch or bruise, may pave the way to deadly disease. When called upon to visit the need for keeping Zamb-Buk always handy? When called upon at 3, Business Avenue, Toronto, Dr. Zamb-Buk, daughter of the late Dr. Hevan, of St. David's, Wales, said—"My boy Alfred scratched his leg with a nail tip of a shoe lace. A nasty poisoned sore developed and it defied all the usual ointments. He had a double escape. Zamb-Buk I decided to give a trial. To my great relief, the balm soon caused healing to set in. All inflammation and poisonous matter was quickly removed by Zamb-Buk, and it healed the sore without leaving a scar."

"Again when I fell over a steel fence and injured my knee badly, Zamb-Buk alone saved me. My daughter, a nurse, was of the opinion that only an operation could remove the mass of inflammation and pus. But I again pinned my faith to Zamb-Buk, and it cleared up the sore. Zamb-Buk is a sure cure for all sores. Equally valuable for eczema, pimples, cuts, burns, etc."

Has Amassed Fortune

Candy King of Melbourne, Australia, Is Worth Fifty Million

Australia has the world's candy king. His name is MacRobertson, and he is said to be the richest man in the South seas; his fortune being placed close to $50,000,000. He has seventeen large candy manufacturing plants and in his office there are models of all the world's great cities.

He never tires of studying his plants and planning ways and means to better the working conditions of his 2,500 employees. Their average wage is $16.00 annually. For many years he has set aside a certain proportion of the profits from his business for charity and every organized body in Australia gets a share of it yearly.

Will Become Memorial

Coach in Which Armistice Was Signed Is To Be Preserved

The famous railway coach in which the Armistice was signed in November, 1918, will shortly, thanks to the generosity of the British people, become a permanent memorial at the "Armistice Crossroads" at Rethondes, where the historic act took place.

The interior of the coach will be restored as nearly as possible to its original condition at the time it received the German emissaries. French subscribers have guaranteed a permanent upkeep fund.

An Old Merit—Dr. Thomas' Elixer. This Oil is not a humble of medicinal substances thrown together and pushed by advertising, but the result of the careful investigation of the healing qualities of certain oils as applied to the human body. It is a rare combination and it won and kept public favor from the first. A trial of it will carry conviction to any who doubt its power to repair and heal.

NEW GIRDLE PUT AROUND WORLD BY BEAM SYSTEM

Montreal.—"It is a new girdle put around the world for closer understanding between all men of goodwill." In these words Lord Burnham, chairman of the Imperial Press Union, greeted the inauguration today of the fastest wireless service in the world, the beam system between Montreal and London. Messages were exchanged at a rate of 200 words a minute and reception here was perfect. The inauguration messages were exchanged between representative journalists of the two British metropolises.

"In the course of years it seems the Atlantic will be entirely abolished and we shall be asking if the work of Columbus was really necessary," wired the editor of the London Daily Telegraph, while other London newspapers sent greetings in similar vein to reply to those from this side.

The first message was from Lord Atholstan, Montreal, to Lord Burnham congratulating the latter in the completion of "this new link of Empire," and paying tribute to the invention of Senator Marconi and the engineers who had made the latest accomplishment possible.

Lord Atholstan referred to the efforts Burnham had made "to increase the efficiency of inter-continental communication within the Empire."

Lord Burnham's reply read in part: "It is the opening of a new era in the rapid transmission of news and the instantaneous communication of ideas. Its direct influence upon just affairs and politics will be incalculable."

This reply also contained an official message from the journalists of London to which an immediate response was made as follows:

"Journalists of Montreal, representing those who are working to unite in strongest bonds of empire friendly faiths from French Canadian and English-speaking citizens of Canada, send heartfelt greetings to British journalists whom they feel are now within a moment's reach of the Canadian metropolis."

Swept By Hurricane

Thirty Dead and Three Hundred Injured in City of Havana

Havana, Cuba.—Thirty persons were killed and 300 injured in the city of Havana by the hurricane that swept over the city and other sections of Cuba, according to an official announcement.

All the lower parts of the city were inundated, causing thousands of persons to need temporary aid and shelter.

Police and soldiers were patrolling the streets of the city to prevent possible attempts at looting.

President Machado ordered all places of business closed and instructed the police and military to shoot without warning any persons discovered attempting to carry out depredations.

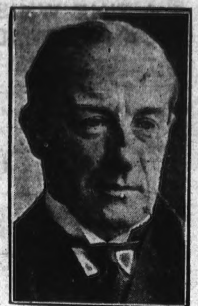

A house in the Calle Fernandez collapsed during the storm, killing five persons and injuring eight. Another house on the Malecon was inundated and fell. Thus far the authorities have been unable to explore the ruins. Many homes in the city were reported to have been wrecked or seriously damaged. From the mouth of the harbor to the monument erected in memory of the officers and men who were killed in the destruction of the United States battleship Maine in 1898, the water at times was several metres deep along the Malecon. The Maine monument was destroyed except for the base.

Western Writer Receives Recognition Regard.—Miss Irene Moore, of the Morning Leader staff, has been successful in winning a prize of $500 for an essay on La Verandree in a literary contest conducted by the Bureau of Archives of the Province of Quebec. Twelve subjects were treated, but only seven prizes awarded. Miss Moore is the only westerner to share in the awards. Other prize-winners were J. D. Leland, Montreal; Miss Dorothy Hecker, Montreal; Dr. A. Vallee, Quebec; C. S. Blue, Ottawa; S. Marin, Ottawa, and J. N. Fautoux, Montreal.

Would Boost Duty on Potatoes.—An increase in the duty on potatoes entering Canada from 35 cents per cwt. to 50 cents is asked by the Canadian Horticultural Council in a memorandum submitted to the tariff advisory board recently. The tariff on potatoes entering the United States is 50 cents per cwt. and the Canadian horticulturists want the Canadian duty made the same.

S. B. Gundy Elected Head of Dominion Board of Trade

Mr. Gundy, in accepting office, predicted the formation of the Canadian Board of Trade would open up new avenues of co-operation between the different boards throughout the Dominion.

A Serious Question

Premier Ferguson of Ontario Would Have Voters Consider Manifesto In Deliberate Way

Toronto.—Premier Ferguson will be content with any verdict the electors of Ontario may pronounce at the polls, December 1, if in the meantime they will consider the proposals of the Ontario Government's election manifesto in a quiet, deliberate way, dealing with the matter as a condition and not as a theory, the Premier said in an interview here. Mr. Ferguson said:

"I have nothing to say about the comment made by a number of people, because apparently they have not criticized in any respect the grounds I've given in reaching my conclusions. I put before the public the general conditions as I see them, and am asking for a careful discussion and consideration of the problem. It does not serve any good purpose simply to denigrate and about. Ferguson is tied up with the vote. What Ferguson desires of the general public is to consider seriously this great question, which touches so closely the moral welfare of all manhood and womanhood of this province."

No U.S. Minister To Canada

President Coolidge Can See No Present

Washington.—President Coolidge can see no present reason for sending an American minister to Ottawa when Canada sends a resident minister to Washington.

In any event, Mr. Coolidge is quite certain such action would require an act of Congress.

At present, it was said, he feels consular questions are being handled efficiently with Canada and that any other questions that arise can be dealt with through the present organization.

Reports that the United States would appoint a minister to Ottawa followed the announcement that Hon. Vincent Massey of Toronto, would be sent to Washington as Canada's first resident minister.

EMPIRE DEFENCE MATTER DEBATED AT CONFERENCE

London.—Despite the existence of strong peace treaties, the question of Imperial defence is likely to provoke animated discussion at the Imperial conference, Premier Baldwin's speech at the formal opening stressed the manner in which New Zealand and Singapore were adopting the idea of sharing in the maintenance cost of naval bases and hinted at the possibility of an arrangement with the Irish Free State in the matter of coast defence.

It is understood General Hertzog, Premier of South Africa, is as strongly opposed to any idea of a contribution for naval defence as was the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when he was Prime Minister of Canada. It is likely Premier King will proceed cautiously in this matter.

Mr. Baldwin's references to the work of other parts of the Empire in naval contributions is interpreted as a hint to Canada.

Canada's relation to Great Britain on continental lines also will be raised to a vital issue. It is thought, by the speech of Rt. Hon. Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Minister of Foreign Affairs.

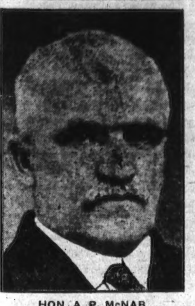

Deep interest is being manifest in the possible disclosures of Sir Austen in the future report of the recent meeting between himself and Premier Mussolini of Italy and its effect on the Locarno policy.

Trade In Favor Of Canada

Exports to South Africa Much Greater Than Imports

Ottawa.—The announcement of Premier King in London of steps to negotiate a trade treaty with South Africa, while quite in keeping with the export trade plan of the Government, raises some questions here as to just what concessions will be asked and given. It is presumed that Canada may ask pretty much what has been asked by Australia. South Africa already enjoys, automatically, the preferences extended under the Australian, New Zealand and West Indian treaties, although her products are not wholly the same. Figures for the last fiscal year disclose the trade to be very lopsided in favor of Canada.

Imports from South Africa in the year totaled only $68,144, while exports from Canada to that Dominion amounted to $9,276,000. The principal items of imports were: fruits, $17,000; hides, $11,000; wool, $21,000; and diamonds, $28,000. Canadian exports included motor cars, $3,050,000; agricultural implements, $2,650,000; pulp and paper, $1,400,000; rubber goods, $820,000; and wheat and flour, $1,300,000.

Scotland Is Alarmed

Would Take Steps to Limit Number of Immigrants From Ireland

Glasgow, Scotland.—Steps to induce the British parliament to pass regulations limiting the number of Irish immigrants who have been invading Scotland have been taken here.

Nine thousand Irish persons came to Scotland in 1924, and in five years there have been 45,000 immigrants from the Free State. Advocates who are desirous that parliament intervene claim that the Scots are threatened with being crowded out of their own country.

Is Representing Canada.—Montreal.—The Right Hon. ### Needs Foreign Markets

U.S. Will Become Free Trade State Unless Tariff Reduced

Liverpool.—The United States eventually must become a free trade nation unless her tariffs are reduced so that the American and European producers can enjoy mutual exchange of goods. A. S. Paken, chairman of the Liverpool Cotton Association, declared Wednesday.

"It seems only natural," said Paken who was one of the speakers of the International manifesto against tariff barriers, "that Lancashire, England, should be permitted to produce fine cotton goods out of cotton bought from southern growers, and exchange these goods with American consumers for their raw product."

"At present, American production in all lines points to the necessity of foreign markets for her supplies."

Did Not Attend

Unveiling Of Tablet

Irish Delegate to Empire Conference Explained Absence to Premier Baldwin

London.—W. T. Cosgrave, Irish delegate to the Empire Conference, did not attend the unveiling of a tablet to Empire war dead in Westminster Abbey. He sent instead Kevin O'Higgins, vice-president of the council of ministers in Dublin, and explained his own absence in a letter to Premier Baldwin. In it he said that O'Higgins took a brother in the world war, whereas he himself was engaged in the Easter rebellion in Dublin in 1916, in which British as well as Irish were killed.

Cosgrave added that he feared his presence might bring pain to bereaved Englishmen, although he, personally, would have felt honored by attending.

Germans Form

Aluminum Trust

No Mention Made of Including Britain or United States

Paris.—Through the efforts of leaders of the German aluminum industry, another Continental trust has been formed, according to information reaching Paris business circles. A tentative agreement has been reached and France will probably be included before the cartel becomes operative.

The formation of this combination will be another coup for German business. Being a dominant factor in the aluminum trade any Germany, in world of cartels, will be the fight for world markets single-handed, will have the financial and productive power of the cartel behind her.

Naturally, other members—probably Sweden, Holland and Belgium—will benefit, but Germany will be the most fortunate one in the agreement.

No mention is made of Great Britain or the United States and it is presumed that these two nations do not figure in the proposed trust, either directly or indirectly.

STATE OF RUSSIA NOW WORSE THAN UNDER THE CZAR

Montreal.—The political institutions in Russia are worse than under the Czar. There is no breath of freedom, of thought, or action or of initiative in Russia today.

This is the opinion of the present Russian regime held by Mrs. Elms Goldman Colton, better known to the world by her first two names, who has arrived from Europe and is visiting friends in Montreal.

Mrs. Colton declared that it had been clear she did not come into Canada in conflict, but that her passport naturally had been made out in her husband's name.

"I don't want Canadian people to think I sneaked into Canada," she said.

Mrs. Colton was deported from the United States in 1919, because of her revolutionary opinions and she went to Russia.

"That does not mean I favor a return to Czarism," Mrs. Colton added to her condemnation of present conditions. "But when a people rise in two revolutions, as the Russians have done, one has a right to expect a little more in the way of freedom and well-being than under the terrible regime of the Czar."

"Instead," she said, "I found a Russian dictatorship which added to the many evils of Czarism a great many evils of the Communist state."

The women of Russia, declared Mrs. Colton, had not gained the emancipation they had struggled for for 70 years.

There have been 4367 lynchings in the United States since 1888.

MAY PAY CLAIMS ENTERED FOR WAR DAMAGES

London.—Though lacking legal status for their claims, Canada's civilians who suffered loss during the war as at last to be compensated.

At the next session the dominion parliament will be asked to consider legislation dealing with claims passed by the Pughley reparations commission for war damages. Some time ago a bill was introduced to provide compensation grants, but it fell through. Today there is $3,000,000 in the dominion treasury available for such payments. This is Canada's share of the reparations received to date under the Peace plan.

Now it is understood Premier King will ask parliament to utilize this in settlement of civilian claims. Thomas Mulvey, under secretary of state, will take up with Britain, France and Germany the complicated question of war claims and will discuss with Berlin the problem of $2,000,000 outstanding claims. He will also discuss at Paris the disposition of Canadian securities held by France after seizure from Germany.

Canada holds $12,000,000 German property, the disposition of which has not been considered by the Dominion. South Africa returned her seizure to Germany four years ago. The United States is now considering a similar step. Irrespective of further amounts recovered or the disposition of sequestered property, the distribution of the $2,000,000 in the treasury will be settled next session with the possibility of small claims being held in abeyance and others in proportion. This compensation must be commensurate and voted by parliament as such claims have no legal status.

The Royal Spasm

When United States Citizens Pay Homage to the Queen of Beauty

London.—The "royal spasm" in the United States is the subject of an editorial in the Daily Express. It points out there are more kings in America than in Europe, and in the rest of the world put together, but they are industrial kings.

"The real thing, the triple extract, thrice, anointed crowned heads of monarchs are not indigenous to the soil, so to speak," the paper says. "Therefore happens that when unattractive royalty appears, like Queen Marie of Rumania, the whole country makes its voracious abundance and pays homage to the queen of beauty."

Judging from the cabal descriptions of the future, it would seem to be a good thing that the United States is a republic. If they had a king and queen over them, they would soon be suffocated with the popular adulation."

Hoping For Straight Contest

No Three Corned Fight in Ontario Election

Toronto.—Although discussion is rife with local politicians regarding the possibility of an agreement between Liberals and Progressives in the coming provincial general election, there is no indication as yet that such an agreement will be reached. The general impression seems to be that there will be no formal agreement but that they had been and are meeting of representatives of the two parties.

Farmers Receive Final Payments For Wheat

Cheques Mailed To Members Of Saskatchewan Pool Total $1,000,000

Regina.—Farmers who signed Saskatchewan-Wheat Pool contracts will receive $1,000,000 in the final payment from the Pool for their 1925 wheat, according to an official statement issued by pool officials. Cheques covering payments on the basis of five cents a bushel for No. 1 Northern, less deductions for carrying charges in country elevators, operation and construction costs and commercial rebates have been sent out from the head office. The average price per bushel paid was $1.45. From this the elevator and commercial reserve deductions and carrying charges were made.

The Saskatchewan Hog Pool and the Saskatchewan Livestock Pool, which recently agreed to unite, hope to have the new pool in operation by the beginning of the new year.

LOOKING OVER NEW ROAD

In connection with the negotiations which have been carried on for some time between the provincial governments of Alberta and British Columbia with respect to relocation of the highway through the Crow's Nest Pass area, Patrick Phillip, of Victoria, deputy minister and chief engineer of the department of public works for this province, returned here Saturday from Crow's Nest and Blairmore, accompanied by District Engineer Brady and Assistant Engineer H. Hayne. They have completed a careful survey and examination of the situation as affecting British Columbia on the actual sites of the proposed relocated portions of the highway.

At Crow's Nest Mr. Phillip and his party met the members of the Alberta highways commission, consisting of Messrs. Davidson and Keith, chief commissioner and assistant, respectively, both of Edmonton, and Mr. Wallace, construction engineer for Rocky Mountain division.

No definite announcement was forthcoming from Mr. Phillip as to the decision.

It is stated, however, that when proposed alterations on the Alberta side are made, it will be more or less obligatory for certain changes to be made on the highway on the British Columbia side and that these necessary changes will be proceeded with early next spring. The total outlay to this is borne by the British Columbia government for about one mile of new roadway including one necessary high level railway crossing is estimated at about $25,000. As to the complete British Columbia highway relocation project, that will cost something like $200,000 and for that reason it may not be possible to carry it out in the immediate future. It is admitted by those considering the proposition that the consummation would undoubtedly be a highly desirable improvement. — Fernie Free Press.

INCREDIBLE VALUE

Reports from all provinces indicate that the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, at the price of $1.00 a year, is sweeping the country. At the price of $1.00 a year, this big weekly journal is the marvel of the newspaper world. Notwithstanding the reduction in price (from $2.00 to $1.00) every feature of this great paper has been faithfully maintained, and the publishers are ever watchful for opportunities to make improvements.

When one takes into consideration the huge volume, wide variety and high quality of the reading matter in every issue of the Family Herald, the question uppermost in the reader's mind is, "how can it be produced at the price?" It is a combination of a complete farm journal, family magazine and weekly newspaper, at a cost of less than two cents weekly.

Winter is rapidly approaching. For this coming winter's reading there is no better combination than your own local paper and the Family Herald and Weekly Star. Subscriptions may be left at The Enterprise office.

At Cardston, Hallowe'en night is to be a night of rigid law-enforcement. All depredators will be handled severely and dealt with to the full extent of the law. The council wants the youngsters to take notice. In cases of damage the parents will be made to pay for same.

TOPOGRAPHIC MAPS

One of the basic requirements of our modern educational system is the teaching of the art of reading. With this accomplishment well mastered there is opened up to the pupil an avenue of pleasure, interest and profit extending to the limit of the span of life itself. How inestimable is the benefit to be derived from its exercise!

This art can lead us into every realm of human knowledge. One department that is forever offering its attractions to the reader is that which deals with localities, the location and extent of the natural and artificial features of a country. It is much easier to understand problems relating to any people, any district, or any locality when we understand the geographical features associated with them.

Thus it is that we find interest in reading about such things. But there is another and much readier way of presenting this information. Although everyone, who is not illiterate, knows how to read the written or printed word, very many do not properly learn the art that relates to this other kind of reading, namely, that of map-reading. This is all the more strange when it is considered that by the second method we can present much more adequately and completely than by the former the information relating to any country or district.

What may require pages of written or printed description can generally be shown even more clearly in a few square inches upon a map. It is surprising how interesting the mastery of this art of map-reading may become, or what pleasure and profit it may lead us into. This is particularly true when it is applied to the topographic map.

The art of reading topographic maps is quite simple to master, but there are certain basic points which should be understood. In order to present to the general public and to the school teacher a brief course in reading topographic maps, the topographical survey department of the interior, Ottawa, has just issued a small booklet: "How to Read Topographic Maps." This is available to the public by writing to the topographical survey upon the payment of the nominal sum of five cents.

This little booklet will be found useful to the school teacher who wishes to impart instruction in this art; or to the general public who wish to place themselves in a position to more fully appreciate the diversity of information shown upon these maps. In addition to a general discourse upon Canadian topographic maps, a number of examples are taken up and studied in detail.

BENNETT GETS HIGHEST PRICE AT STOCK SHOW

Though prices were low in comparison to last year at the Feeder Stock Show in Calgary, the highest price paid was to a Southern Alberta stockman, namely Mr. Wm. Bennett, of the Rock Creek Hereford Ranch, Burnis. The price last year was 7.10, while this year 6.75 was the highest. The consignment purchased was a carload of 25 Hereford yearlings, and the purchaser A. W. Neil.

WHERE BAD EGGS GO

Eggs that are worthless so far as food value goes, are not wasted by the large dealers, says a writer in a scientific contemporary, but are covered with kerosene after being broken, treated with boric acid and sold to tanneries for use in one of the first processes of making leather. The shells are removed by sieves, and the egg mixture is placed in a revolving drum with the raw hides to make them pliant.

W. F. Nickle has resigned as attorney-general of Ontario over the government liquor control question, which he describes as "alluring, but deceptive."

The public and press were excluded from the preliminary trial of two men charged with forgery, at the Calgary police court on Friday, as the application of the solicitors for the defence, on the order of the magistrate. It was the first time such an application was ever made in the history of Alberta courts, in a trial of this kind.

The magistrate explained that the court was not an open court in preliminary trials, whether he closes it or not at his discretion. Upon that there can be no question. He does close it in cases of moral turpitude, and to that there can be no objection because the presence of the public may make the work of the court in the examination of witnesses giving intimate evidence more difficult.

There was no such reason for the application in the court on Friday. The counsel for the prisoners asked for the closing of the court because he feared that the publication of the proceedings might prejudice his clients in the supreme court. When it is recalled that the prisoners had been convicted at Vancouver for an offence similar to that with which they were charged and were serving a sentence of six years for the offence, the force of the application is difficult to understand.

Magistrate Sanders granted the application, which is somewhat surprising. It is doubtful if a similar application would have been granted under like circumstances in many other courts in Canada. His exaggerated sense of fair play to the prisoners, doubtless, persuaded him to yield to the application of the lawyer.

It is a precedent, and a bad one and it would not be out of place for the attorney-general to make some kind of a ruling, if it is in his power. It is in the interest of justice that trials, with the exceptions mentioned before, should be open to the public and that is the reason they are open to the public. If cases are to be closed every time some fussy lawyer asks for it, our present system of open courts will be at an end.

Newspapers are not particularly interested, except in the maintenance of an old and honored principle, the violation of which is not in the interest of the public. The court should be open.—Calgary Albertan.

ALBERTA'S COAL POSSIBILITIES

After reading the provincial geological survey report, the Port Arthur News-Chronicle concludes that "with the amount of coal that lies in its rocks, Alberta should some day become one of the greatest industrial communities in North America. Her coal should bear the same relation to industry that the water powers of Ontario and Quebec bear to the industries of those provinces. The coal resources of Alberta have not yet been more than approximated. The cost of taking it out and converting it into electricity should be on such a basis that its use for the purpose suggested surely will not interfere with the destiny a wise government can map out for Alberta. This statement is based on the fact that the coal reserves now investigated stand at 327,663,000,000 metric tons, or more than 304,055 times more than formerly considered."

When it is remembered that the figure formerly given for the total coal reserves in Alberta has been estimated at 1,072,400,000 metric tons, and a metric ton is equal to slightly more than a short ton (1.1023 short tons to be exact), it will be seen that the recent survey reveals that the available coal supply in Alberta, even when only 50% is considered recoverable, is about thirty times more than the amount which the province was formerly credited in available and unavailable coal.—New Glasgow Free Lance.

Automobiles have finally become standardized into three classes—in use, used and junked.

Announcement has been made through the Westminster Gazette by Dr. Montague Rhodes James, provost of Eton, of the discovery in the library of Hereford Cathedral of new passages of a gospel of St. Peter.

According to Dr. James, the gospel attributed to Peter existed in Greek manuscript and in the sixth century was brought to England by Anglo-Saxon pilgrims. In the thirteenth century, monks made a translation into Latin. This translation, neglected six centuries, is Dr. James' find.

The document gives the first description of Symeon, believed to be the son of Joseph (husband of the Virgin Mary) by his first wife. The three wise men from the East are represented as speaking, rather patronizingly of Jewish prophecy. They say: "As these are with you old scriptures of ancient prophets who wrote concerning Christ and His coming into this world, likewise, also, with us are there more ancient scriptures in which it is clearly seen that Christ is spoken of."

Joseph tells Symeon of the gifts of the wise men, who brought gold, frankincense and myrrh to the newborn Jesus, saying: "These strangers, come hither from a far country, deal better than our own people who entered in hither freely without any gifts."

"Many passages of the narrative are quite new," says Dr. James. "The birth of Christ is described as taking place in a cave. Joseph went into the market place and proclaimed the news."

The costumes of the wise men are described thus: "Their raiment was exceedingly plain and their bodies dark. They also had on their heads caps and on their feet buskins made of durable stuff." These costumes are exactly like early sculptures and mosaics. "Since the discovery of Hereford, I have discovered two other versions—one in the British Museum and one in the Irish. The Irish manuscript omits the unorthodox passages of Hereford," states Dr. James.

DAMAGE OF PROPERTY BY HALLOWE'EN FRANKS'EN PUNISHABLE

At a recent meeting of the town council of Strathmore, the mayor drew the attention of the council to the approach of Hallowe'en and referred to the vast destruction and damage of property that had occurred last year, emphasizing in no uncertain terms, that a similar condition would not be permitted this year without the culprits or their parents, or both, being penalized to the fullest extent possible. Innocent fun among the youngsters was perfectly all right, but when so-called sport causes the ratepayers much inconvenience, and often a considerable financial loss, it is time to make an example of those who have so little idea of how to conduct themselves.

It would be good business upon the part of parents to keep a close check upon the whereabouts of their children on Hallowe'en.

BRITISH BOYS AT VERMILION SCHOOL

It was announced last week that the plan inaugurated by Hon. Geo. Hoadley, of training British boys at three of the agricultural schools in Alberta would be continued this year, and that from sixty to seventy of the boys would be placed in training at the schools at Olds, Claresholm and Raymond. Although the Raymond school is being re-opened this year for the first time since 1922, none of the British boys will go there, but they will be distributed as usual among the schools at Vermilion, Olds and Claresholm. Raymond school was mentioned in error in this connection.

It's an easy matter to take things as they come; it is the letting go of them that sometimes tries a man's fortitude.

Charles Johnson was found guilty by His Honor Judge Thompson in the county court at Fernie on Tuesday on a charge of breaking and entering and stealing and was sentenced to serve five years in the New Westminster penitentiary. Johnson, otherwise known as Charles Benekariatis, was arrested at Natal on suspicion of having burglarized the Fernie Motor Car Co. and the Fernie Garage, when $850 in cash and nearly $600 in other valuable documents were stolen. Most of the stolen property was recovered.

The States does not assume liability. But it is to provide that any person who is injured, if it is not their own fault, will receive indemnity for the accident.

RUSSIA UNDER THE CARS SEEN IN "THE MIDNIGHT SUN"

All the grim bleakness of the Russia of the Czar is feelingly shown in two great scenes of "The Midnight Sun." Universal Super-Jewel coming to the Orpheum Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week. Dimitri Buchowetzki, the noted Russian director, supervised the making of the picture, which has been given an all-star cast.

A military tribunal with a life in its hands is, no matter what its locale, always a gripping spectacle but given a Russian setting, it takes on all the chill of that mystic country. Such is the atmosphere that hangs about the great trial scene in "The Midnight Sun." All this Buchowetzki has caught and given to the screen.

The scene is set in a huge columned room of an old Russian fortress. In the centre of the room behind a desk on a raised dais sits the tribunal. Several of its members are only acting out on the screen what they have done in life, for at least two are former Russian army officers. But for the desk and low bench on which the prisoner sits, the room is bare of furniture. The tenseness of the scene reaches out from the screen and holds the audience.

Another great sequence is that showing the sentence of the court about to be carried out. The firing squad has been assembled in the courtyard of the grim old fortress. The prisoner, with his back against one of the walls, has received the final blessings of the old priest. The members of the tribunal are there to see the sentence carried out.

Rifles are raised, the command to fire is about to be given and then—but to tell what happens would be to reveal one of the big climaxes of this most interesting picture. Both these scenes were staged under the direction of men who have actually participated in similar ones. Buchowetzki having sought the advice of various Russian military men—who are members of the cast.

Laura La Plante heads the imposing list of players that portray the thrilling story of "The Midnight Sun." Miss La Plante plays the part of the dancing girl who has captured an empire. Pat O'Malley is the cold, over-bearing Grand Duke. Raymond Keane, playing his first big part in his first picture, is the hero. George Siegmann impersonates the character of the grasping, licentious banker, rival of the Grand Duke for the affections of the dancing girl. Others in the cast are Arthur Hoyt, Earl Metcalf, Mikhail Vavitch, Nikolai Sossanin, Cesare Romano, Charles A. Hancock, Nina Romano, Medes Radzina, Victor De Linsky and William Von Hardenberg.

Socialism is like the rainbow. You may follow it, but you can never get into the field where it is. It is beautiful to look at on a wet day. It promises brighter times and reminds us that there is a sun somewhere in the sky. But to look at the rainbow we have to turn our backs on the sun, and we never find out where the rainbow begins or where it ends.—Sir John Simon.

CHAPTER XVII.—Continued

The majority of the men were of course, only silly. Especially, those who were obviously important men of affairs, and who amused Joanna with their common adoption of one phrase, "I wish my wife were like you, now." Three in succession! One who confided to her that he was "an attorney representing" some of her very large interests, another whose name was magic in a store that competed with the one she had left, even Pendleton, who had been both a diplomat and a statesman!

As he breathed his response to her buoyant and restless youth, Pendleton indicated to her a pretty woman who probably was forty but looked thirty, and who seemed, in some intangible way, to be not very happy. Joanna caught that her eyes always followed her husband, Joanna thought she would like Mrs. Pendleton. And she didn't like Pendleton. She gave him an unexpected acknowledgement of his "if I wish my wife were like you, now, I'd know how really to enjoy being in love!"

"Haven't you ever talked that over with anyone? Just for example, Mrs. Marks?"

Offense colored his face immediately. But the girl in front of him was laughing up at him so brightly that he was helpless.

"Because Doris happens occasionally to meet me for tea," he protested, "doesn't necessarily mean that we have confidences. Anyhow, can't we forget everyone else, for this minute you have given me?"

Joanna couldn't tell him and left him with a parting smile. A moment later she timidly touched Mrs. Pendleton on the arm. "You wasn't mind, will you," she asked Pendleton's wife, "if I say that I want to know you? You see, she liked I have met Mr. Pendleton, and he was good."

Letter Tells of Wonderful Relief After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Coniston, Ontario.—"After a severe operation and a three weeks' stay in hospital, I returned home so weak that I was unable to move a chair. For four months I was almost frantic with pains and suffering until I thought there could not be any help for me. I had very few friends, and I suffered agony every month. One day when I was not able to get up, my mother begged me to try my medicine. My husband got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it. I started a second bottle, and to my surprise and joy the pains in my side left me completely and I am able to do all my work without help. I am a farmer's wife, so you see I can't be idle long. In all, I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, five boxes of the Compound Tablets, two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, and have also used the Sanative Wash."—Mrs. L. J. Thompson, Box 102, Coniston, Ontario.

Introduces New Sport

Diver Succeeds in Walking Five Miles Under Water

Just to show that "swimming the English Channel is not the only sport," King Everett, Norfolk diver, walked across the bottom of Hampton Roads from Old Point Comfort, Virginia, to the Norfolk naval base, a distance of about five miles. He completed the unprecedented jaunt in two hours and forty minutes.

Except for weakness in the legs and a numb feeling in the head and shoulders, Everett appeared none the worse for his feat.

Seated in a huge diving suit with leaden shoe soles, and carrying eighty additional pounds of lead strapped around his body to hold himself down in heavy pressure depths, Everett slid into the water at 10.49 a.m., and despite many obstacles, including an old ship anchor in which he became entangled, he reached the bottom and completed his trip at 1.30 p.m. A launch with an air pump accompanied him.

"I waited to, Jo," he said simply, "particularly because it has been hard for me to put off telling you how sorry I am for the things I thought when I heard of the wonderful thing that happened to you. I should have known better, but I just couldn't believe you wouldn't let me, you know, and now, of course, I know why I thought when I saw you, and the people around you, that I would just go along. There will be no room for me, any more."

"You're going to scold again," Joanna complained. "Won't you like me first. You haven't kissed me, John, for a long time now, days and days it seems. And I don't want to be scolded tonight."

Perhaps he would have resisted her, if he could. But there would be few indeed who could have withstood the appeal of her, almost a child in her plaintive plea to be humored and fondled. John gathered her to him and held her. Her hands pressed against his breast—her old trick which sometimes had been a pretense.

Suddenly he put her away from him. Even put away the arm she had just flung over his shoulder. When she saw how white his face was she understood why he was waiting, why he couldn't just then, make words.

"Now," she said, softly, "you must tell me why you were going away without even coming up to me."

"Because, Jo," he answered, "you already have gone away from me. I have tried to see it differently, but that's the way it is. When I came here, tonight, I thought we would have our hours together—I didn't know it was to be an affair like this! And that you had planned for me to find you in the very midst of the sort of thing you like—that fits you so well!"

Joanna nestled back, restlessly and quietly. The deep brown settled in her eyes.

CHAPTER XVIII.

A Kiss

"Then you don't like my happiness?" Joanna said. "You don't want me to have what my money has made possible for me?"

"I haven't said anything of that meaning," John declared. "I want nothing else in the world so much as I want you to have happiness, but I wish you could have it with something of real joy, something of the joy of doing things, big things, out of the opportunities that have come your way. I am afraid you will never know that sort of feeling. Perhaps it is all right that you shouldn't. Money will mean one thing to you; it would mean more to me. As it is, it often does where else is the bargain. It has come between us."

"You mean that because of this we must give up—give up each other?" she was still very quiet, and patient.

"What else can we do? How in there any room, or place for me? The little house, with a parlor and kitchen that we planned would hardly be serviceable to you now, would it?"

"But, John, we could just buy that same house. That is one thing I want to do, right away." She smiled a little. "Only we can make it larger, add with more to it than just a kitchen and parlor—fountain and gardens, and balconies, and the driveway, and paddled halls we used to joke about when we saw them in the movies. We can have all those things now, John, that we laughed about. It will be just the house we planned, enlarged to fit my million. Will there be anything wrong about that?"

When Joanna saw him standing in the centre of the room, she was suddenly angry, despite her eagerness. She would not forgive him, readily, she decided, for ignoring her, then, she realized that she could do nothing but forgive. Yvonne, who had sat directly in front of him, curled in her great soft chair, rose when she and Roddy entered.

"I've been enjoying this boy of yours tremendously," she said to Joanna. Joanna went quickly up to John. She was blurring her lips to keep them from trembling. Yvonne, from where Roddy awaited her, added: "He wanted to run away, but I've managed to keep him. We've had a most interesting conversation, and to a little grimly. Something or weariness came into her eyes, lingered there a moment, and then vanished quickly. She took John's hand. She had intended to kiss him, but he had him to a couch, instead, and put him down beside her. "Now tell me," she commanded, "why you have stayed away from me. I have been so happy, expecting you every minute."

Find Oldest Horse

A mummified horse the first known to history, was unearthed recently in Egypt. It is said to be 15 hundred years old and estimated to be about 3,500 years old.

Joanna's lips quivered, a little grimly. Something or weariness came into her eyes, lingered there a moment, and then vanished quickly. She took John's hand. She had intended to kiss him, but he had him to a couch, instead, and put him down beside her. "Now tell me," she commanded, "why you have stayed away from me. I have been so happy, expecting you every minute."

Joanna's lips quivered, a little grimly. Something or weariness came into her eyes, lingered there a moment, and then vanished quickly. She took John's hand. She had intended to kiss him, but he had him to a couch, instead, and put him down beside her. "Now tell me," she commanded, "why you have stayed away from me. I have been so happy, expecting you every minute."

Invitation Is Unanswered

Prince Invited to Dinner by American Unknown to Him

The Prince of Wales has received a cabled invitation to join an American and his wife at dinner on their arrival in England soon. The cable, which was addressed: "Prince of Wales of England, St. James's Place, London," read:

"My wife and self will be honored if you will dine with us on our visit to London next month. Name your company and your date."

It was the first the Prince had heard of his visit to America, but those names have not been made public. The invitation remains unanswered.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

AN EXCELLENT REMEDY

For Any of the Many Minor Ailments of Infants and Young Children

No mother can expect that her child will escape all the ills to which babyhood and childhood are subject, but she can do much to lessen their severity, and to make baby's battles with nature easily won.

Minor ailments which afflict babyhood and childhood are caused by some derangement of the stomach and bowels. Regulate the stomach and bowels, and these troubles will disappear. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative which through their action on the stomach and bowels never fail to hasten constipation and indigestion; colds and simple fevers; expel worms and make the dreaded teething time easy.

Concerning Baby's Own Tablets Mrs. A. Kosban, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "Kiddie's Own Tablets, 'Care of Baby in Health and Sickness.' I have two little children, four and a half and three years old, and have used nothing else for them but Baby's Own Tablets. I think the Tablets are a wonderful medicine for little ones."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all leading dealers or will be sent by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Has Postponed Flight

Paul Tarsoussen, the French aviator, will not attempt to fly across the Atlantic by the Barnard monoplane for at least eight months, and possibly longer. Delays in construction in the plane and bad weather is the cause of the postponement of the flight.

Ready-made Medicine.—You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable; for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains; it is unsurpassed; whine for cuts, sores and the like it is an unquestionable healer. It needs no testimonial other than the use, and that show us the way through the worst, airy stage where our loved ones groined. God teaches us, while yet our sorrow is wet, to follow on and find our dear ones in heaven.

—Henry Ward Beecher.

Little Helps For This Week

Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted.—Matt. v, 4.

Oh, deem not that we are blest alone! Whose lives a peaceful tenor keep: The Power who pillow nestle hath shown, A blessing for the eyes that weep.

For God hath marked each sorrowing day.

And numbered every secret tear; And heaven's long ago of bliss shall pay For all his children suffer here.

—William Cullen Bryant.

God washes the eyes by tears until they can behold the invisible land where tears shall come no more. O Love! O Affliction! ye are the guides that show us the way through the worst, airy stage where our loved ones groined. God teaches us, while yet our sorrow is wet, to follow on and find our dear ones in heaven.

—Henry Ward Beecher.

For all pains—Minard's Liniment.

"Be mine—I love you!" ardently whispered the aged millionaire to the penniless young widow.

"Enough to die for me?" she asked coolly.—Judge.

The brain of an elephant is larger than that of a man, but his trunk is smaller than that of a woman.

No need to suffer with corns, or to run the risk of paring them. Remove them surely and painlessly with Holloway's Corn Remover.

Thirteen is always an unlucky number for some one when it consists of twelve jurymen and a judge.

Feet Sore?—Minard's Liniment.

Stories About Famous People

London Theatre Manager Has Entered Book of Anecdotes

In an entertaining book of reminiscences the Signor Baccroft, the London theatre manager, tells a quantity of good anecdotes about famous people he has known.

One, which we think has been printed before in that which Baccroft, the poet, told him of Longfellow.

The two poets were once driving through the London streets in a hansom cab, when a heavy shower suddenly came on. Longfellow insisted upon throwing the umbrella through the trap in the roof of the cab, so that the driver might protect himself from the rain—which he did. That is precisely what you might expect Longfellow to do—a kind-hearted generous gentleman if ever one lived.

Another generous George De Mautier, the famous illustrator and author of Tribby. He was always annoyed when anyone called him de Mautier instead of de Maurier. He said once: "Bellow will write to me as de Mautier; I wish they would give the devil his name."

The third story is about Archdeacon Wilberforce, who was one of the earliest foes of the evolutionary hypothesis of Darwin. The Archdeacon was visiting Sir John Harcourt at his seat at home at Overstrand, and Harcourt was very fond of dogs and was hardly ever to be seen without one by him, asked him this question:

"Do you really believe, Archdeacon, in a hereafter for our dogs?"

"Indeed I do," said Wilberforce.

"But do you mean that I shall really see my dog again?" Harcourt asked.

"Undoubtedly—if you are good enough," was the response.

Relieves Asthma at Little Expense. Thousands of dollars have been vainly spent upon remedies for asthma and emphysema. It never, with any relief, Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy, despite its assurance of benefit, costs so little that it is within reach of all. It is the national remedy for asthma, far removed from the claims of doubtful and experimental preparations. Your dealer can supply it.

An Ancient Piano

One of First to Reach America Exhibited at Mississippi Fair

Though its strings have long since become corroded and from its keyboard resound horrible discords, a little piano, said to be one of the first two to reach the New World, will be a feature exhibit at the Mississippi State Fair.

The instrument is the property of City Commissioner R. M. Taylor, who secured it from Miss Rosa Plante, octogenarian of this city, in whose family it has been for generations. The mate to the piano is said by Miss Plante to be in Mount Vernon, home of George Washington. Visitors to Mount Vernon describe the piano as identical.

It is of French make, about 15 inches thick, 28 inches wide and 60 inches long. There are 73 keys, connected in a vastly different manner from the pianos of today.

We probably wouldn't feel satisfied if we knew what the people who make them are fools think of us.

Scientist says goldfish do not sleep. Oh, well, they never go anywhere, so they can't get tired.
